

WHAT'S NEW!

As most of you will be enjoying your summer outdoors, visiting exotics places or just barbecuing at home, we've decided to let our ODOinfo relax as well. Henceforth, we will be taking a break for the summer and will return in September. We wish you a good and sunny summertime!

Taxation module:

You'll be glad to know that we've just updated our Taxation module. This module can be found in our FAQ section and it will help you keep up with the complex taxation regulations and necessities as well as official law documents. Stay tuned to keep up with the latest news in vehicle taxation.

Public Holidays

Please note that our office will be closed Friday June 24th as well as Friday July 1st

REMINDER

Odotrack.mobi

Odotrack.mobi is a lighter version of our website. It gives you access to summary information such as: your trips, the location of your vehicle in real time and your logbook. You can access this site from any of your smart devices to easily manage your trips and expenses.

TIPS AND TRICKS

Did you know about the simplified logbook?

Designed for the self employed worker, the CRA would be prepared to afford considerable weight to a logbook maintained for a sample period as evidence of a full year's usage of a vehicle if it meets the following criteria.

- The taxpayer has previously filled out and retained a logbook covering a full 12-month period that was typical (the "base year"). The 12-month period is not required to be a calendar year.
- A logbook for a sample period of at least one continuous three-month period in each subsequent year has been maintained (the "sample year period").
- The distances travelled and the business use of the vehicle during the three-month sample period is within 10 percentage points of the corresponding figures for the same three-month period in the base year (the "base year period").
- The calculated annual business use of the vehicle in a subsequent year does not go up or down by more than 10 percentage points in comparison to the base year.
